CREMATION SERVICE COSTS

Prices effective July 1, 2019, but subject to change without notice.

At Burmeister-Johannsen Funeral Home, we feel the public is best served when provided with complete information at all times. This information includes the prices of the services and products we offer.

We are often asked how much cremation services cost. In answer, we offer the following explanations and the attached pricing chart. All prices are based on our current General Price List, and are subject to change without notice.

Option A: Visitation and Service

This is our most complete package. Included are the basic services of the funeral director and staff, embalming, and other preparation of the body (such as dressing and cosmetic work) needed to impart a natural and comforting appearance of the deceased. Use of facilities, staff, and equipment for public visitation with an open-casket viewing is included in this package. Services, with the body present, may be held at the Funeral Home or at a church (use of the hearse is included). Merchandise and service options are many. The merchandise options available, as well as those used in preparing the pricing chart, will be explained by your Funeral Director.

Option B: Private Viewing and Service

This package is the same as Option A with the addition of privacy. The viewing of the body is private for the family and their invited friends. Following the private viewing, the casket is closed and public visitation and funeral home service (hearse not necessary) proceed without viewing. As in Option A, merchandise and service options are many. The charted example assumes merchandise of a lower price than those used for Option A.

Option C: Private Viewing/Family Identification

This is the minimal service package. A number of items listed in Options A and B are not found in this package. NOT INCLUDED in this option are embalming (minimal preparation is used instead of embalming), other preparation such as dressing and cosmetic work, public or private visitation, and all services (religious, contemporary, church, chapel, graveside, or public or private services of any nature). INCLUDED in this option are the basic services of the funeral director and staff to arrange for minimum preparation of the body, placing of the body in a crematory-approved cardboard box, private identification of the body, transport and cremation of the body, and return of the cremated remains by personal delivery or mail to the family.

Option D: Memorial Service

This option is similar to Option C, with the addition of a Recognition/Memorial Service. The casketed body is not present; the urn containing the cremated remains may or may not be present. The Memorial Service is often held at the Funeral Home or another location that is meaningful to the family. If the urn is present, those in attendance may choose to proceed to the cemetery for a graveside committal of the remains. The charted example includes a cloth-covered viewing box for a more comforting family identification prior to cremation. A suitable urn and urn vault are also included in the example.
